THE CHINA MAIL.

The Austrian Lloyd's s.s. Maria Teresa left Singapore for this port yesterday afternoon.

Insurex Stanton, at the Magistracy this morning, charged twenty-four Chinese with playing in a common-gambling house at No. 1 Cheung Hing Lane on the 7th inst. They were convicted by Captain Hastings, and each fined $2, with the alternative of ten days' imprisonment.

Sixty "lips of speech" are legion, and Charles Kemble's amusing error when he was once playing Shylock instead of As You Like It, "I lay my injury upon my soul!" exclaiming, "Shall I lay surgery upon my soul?" has been told many a time since. Another, and if possible better known story, is that of the soldier who, levelling his halberd to protect Richard from impeding the progress of Harry the Bastard, with the remark, "My lord, stand back, and let the combatant!" exclaimed in his merriment and excitement, "My lord, stand back, and let the parson cough."

One of the most accomplished physicians, and certainly the most eloquent medical lecturer that England has produced during the present century, was in the habit of advising young ladies to take vigorous exercise after dinner. Balls and dances were recommended by this great medical authority as admirable digests, and it would doubtless have afforded him much satisfaction to read some statistics which have just appeared in one of our Transatlantic periodicals, from which we learn that a young lady with a well-filled programme never less than eleven and-a-half miles of ordinary ball. According to this agreeable calculation, it appears that a mile of average duration takes a dancer over three-quarters of a mile; while a square dance causes her to travel about half a mile. Estimating that she dances twelve waltzes in the night, it is obvious that she will have travelled nine miles at the close. For square dances at half a mile apiece will add two miles to the reckoning; while, continues our ally contemporary, "the infatuation still and the occasional trips to the dressing-room to repair damages and to renovate her complexion will augment the total distance by another half-mile." Unfortunately it is not always easy for young ladies to find opportunity for taking active exercise after dinner. To meet this difficulty, Sir Thomas Watson used to advise them to play at billiards whenever it was possible. The late Lord Overbury, who died in his ninety-fifth year, used to attribute his longevity to his habit of playing billiards for hours together upon wet days. He calculated that during an ordinary game players accomplished not less than two miles every hour.

THE LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.
The Legislative Council met this afternoon. H.E. the Governor, Sir William Robinson, presided, and there were also present: Hon. G. T. M. O'Brien, C.M.G., Colonial Secretary; Hon. W. M. G. Odman, Attorney General; Hon. J. H. Stewart Lockhart, Registrar General; Hon. N. G. Mitchell Innes, Colonial Treasurer; Hon. F. A. Cooper, Director of Public Works; Hon. R. Murray Ramsey, Harbour Master; Hon. C. P. Chater, Hon. K. Ho, Hon. E. R. Bellisios, Hon. J. J. Bell-Irving, and Mr. E. H. May, Acting Clerk of Councils. Absent: Hon. T. H. Whitehead.

HON. T. H. WHITEHEAD.
His Excellency—I may mention that, at a personal interview I accorded to the Hon. T. H. Whitehead ten days' leave of absence, in order that he might visit Tonkin.

DOCUMENTS.

The Colonial Secretary laid on the table the reports for 1892 of the Sanitary Surveyor, Superintendent of Fire Brigade, and Headmaster of Victoria College.

NOTICE OF MOTION.

The Registrar General gave notice that he would make the following motion at the next meeting of the Council:

Whereas by Section 20 of Ordinance 11 of 1890 it is enacted that Part II of "The Women and Girls' Protection Ordinance, 1890," should only continue in operation for a period of two years from the coming into operation of that Ordinance, or such further period or periods as might from time to time be determined by resolution of the Legislative Council;

And whereas the said Ordinance came into operation on the 6th day of April, 1891, by virtue of a Proclamation duly issued under Section 34 of said Ordinance by the Officer then administering the Government, which Proclamation was published in the Gazette of the 6th April, 1891;

And whereas it is desirable to further extend the period during which the said Part II of the said Ordinance shall be in operation—it is this day resolved by the Legislative Council of Hongkong that Part II of "The Women and Girls' Protection Ordinance, 1890," shall continue in operation until further notice."

THE TREASURY DEVALUATIONS.

Mr. Ghater asked the questions of which he had given notice at the meeting of the Council on February 8.

The Colonial Secretary—Sir, I answered these questions at the last meeting of Council, and especially the Honorable members who gave notice of the questions, the earliest possible information. As that meeting was a special meeting held with closed doors to consider the Jury List, it was arranged that the questions should be asked again in the ordinary course at the present meeting, and so should be answered by me, so that the usual publicity should be given to the questions and answers. The answers to the questions are as follows:

(1) What is the total amount, so far as has been ascertained to date, of the loss occasioned to the Treasury through the devaluations of A. F. Alves, late clerk and accountant therein?

Answer—$65,000.

(2) Over what period of time these devaluations extended so far as at present known?

Answer—From 1888 to 1892 inclusive.

(3) Who is the defaulter guaranteed in any way, and if so, how, by whom, and to what amount?

Answer—No.

(4) When were the devaluations first discovered, and when were any steps taken for the arrest of the defaulter; is it a fact as stated in the newspapers that Alves was allowed time during which he was able to make away with the books and accounts incriminating him and to escape from the Colony?

Answer—The local Auditor discovered two discrepancies in the accounts on the forenoon and afternoon of Saturday, 23rd January. On the following Monday circumstances occurred which threw grave suspicion on Alves. There was reason to believe on the forenoon of the next day (Tuesday) that he had absconded. Steps were then immediately taken, by telegraph and otherwise, to procure his arrest. No steps were taken before than on that behalf. The question whether he was allowed time during which he was able to make away with the books and accounts incriminating him and to escape from the Colony is ambiguous, as different meanings may be attached to the word "allowed." The circumstances were as I have stated, and the facts are that he had time and availed himself of that to escape. Certain books are missing from the Treasury, and it is presumed that the prisoner is responsible for this.

The Prisoner—I did not make use of the money, therefore I did not repay it. The man [Chun] who brought the action against me, is not my master. He was employed in the Eu-kwei last year, and I ask your Lordship to order him to bring all the account books of the On-wing, and that you will find the true facts.

The Lordships—Tell the prisoner that I do not believe that the so-called On-wing Bank was anything more than a gambling agency, and that I have no sympathy with prosecutor for the loss of his money, but that that does not excuse the prisoner's crime, which was a theft of an impudent nature. I am willing to believe that the prisoner was a tool or instrument to a certain extent in the hands of other people, and that upon that consideration and also that a part of the money has been returned I am able to pass a much more lenient sentence than I otherwise should. He is sentenced to two years' imprisonment with hard labour.

IN APPELLATE JURISDICTION.
(Before His Honour Mr. Fielding Clarke, Chief Justice, and Mr. E. J. Ackroyd, Puisne Judge.)

SUPREME COURT.
IN CRIMINAL SESSIONS.
(Before His Honour Mr. Fielding Clarke, Chief Justice.)

Wednesday, March 8.

THE CHARGE OF IMBELLMENT—SENTENCE ON PRISONER.

Lo Chu Ming, who was convicted several days ago of embezzling $37,000 worth of property of his employer, was brought up for sentence.

Mr. A. J. Francis, Q.C., prosecuted, and Mr. J. Leach defended the prisoner.

Mr. Leach—In this case I am compelled to inform the Court that a sum of $17,100 has been recovered as part of the stolen property in Canton, leaving a balance of $20,000.

His Lordships—Mr. Leach, have you anything to say?

Mr. Leach—No; I am not in a position to say anything.

The prisoner was asked if he had anything to say why sentence of the Court should not be passed upon him.

The Prisoner—I did not make use of the money, therefore I did not repay it. The man [Chun] who brought the action against me, is not my master. He was employed in the Eu-kwei last year, and I ask your Lordship to order him to bring all the account books of the On-wing, and that you will find the true facts.

The Lordships—Tell the prisoner that I do not believe that the so-called On-wing Bank was anything more than a gambling agency, and that I have no sympathy with prosecutor for the loss of his money, but that that does not excuse the prisoner's crime, which was a theft of an impudent nature. I am willing to believe that the prisoner was a tool or instrument to a certain extent in the hands of other people, and that upon that consideration and also that a part of the money has been returned I am able to pass a much more lenient sentence than I otherwise should. He is sentenced to two years' imprisonment with hard labour.

(Before His Honour Mr. Fielding Clarke, Chief Justice, and Mr. E. J. Ackroyd, Puisne Judge.)

LAU CHU AND LO HING C. INSPECTOR.

Mr. J. J. Francis, Q.C., instructed by Messrs. Watson and Dawson, and Mr. W. M. Goodman (Attorney General), instructed by Mr. A. B. Johnson (Crown Solicitor), appeared for the respondent.

The case came before the Court on an application by the appellants for leave to appeal.

Mr. Francis stated the facts of the case, from which it appeared that the appellants were convicted on 21st December last before one of the Police Magistrates of keeping a common gaming house at 161 Queen's Road Central on 15th December last, and fined $500 each. The house was said to be a Weising lottery agency.

After a prolonged legal argument a re-hearing was allowed, the question of costs being reserved. The Attorney General was allowed fourteen days in which to notify the other side if he was to go on with the re-hearing.

WEAVING AND PIECES BILL.

The Attorney General moved the first reading of a Bill entitled "An Ordinance to provide means for ascertaining the amounts to be paid by way of compensation in respect of the Weavers and Piece workers above the River of the Peony Reclamation, to fix the periods for the payment thereof and for other purposes in connection therewith."

He said—I must say a few words in order to explain why I am now proposing the first reading of a Bill having a similar title to a Bill that has been read a second time at the last meeting of Council. It will be in the recollection of Honourable Members that there was some dissatisfaction with the Bill in the condition it was in the second reading, or rather it was suggested that Mr. Danby, a well-known civil engineer in this town, should be associated with the Director of Public Works in assessing the values, and I suggested that at the next meeting, I should be able to produce that alteration in the Bill and bring it forward for a second time.

The Bill, two gentlemen are appointed, and also an umpire, and therefore it will not be necessary to elaborate provisions for appeals, because if we have two values in whom the private Wharf and Pier owners have confidence, and also an umpire whose name does not appear in the Bill but will be introduced before the Bill is finished, we will do away with a great deal of litigation; as these costs would have had to come out of the $100,000, we shall leave a larger portion of it available for the compensation which the private wharf and pier owners along the line of reclamation are entitled to.

Mr. Bellies—Perhaps I am not in order, but on the principle that every labourer is worthy of his hire.

His Excellency—Are you second the Bill?

Mr. Bellies—I may probably conclude by seconding it. I wish to propose that Mr. Cooper's name be included in the category of those gentlemen who come in for recompensation under this Ordinance. The Honourable Member on my right (the Director of Public Works)—

His Excellency—That is a matter for the Bill in Committee.

Mr. Bellies—I did not know.

The Colonial Secretary seconded the first reading, which was agreed to.

THE VOLUNTEER ORDINANCE.

The Attorney General moved the third reading of a Bill entitled "An Ordinance for the establishment of a Volunteer Force and to empower the Governor to raise a special force of Coast Defence Volunteers in the event of anticipated war."

He proposed the omission of the provision added at the last meeting, enacting that the Coast Defence Volunteers should be annually inspected.

This was agreed to, and the Bill was passed finally.

His Excellency—We have no further business. I propose to adjourn the Council till this day fortnight, March 22.

ROWLAND'S KALYDOR.—A soothing, cooling, emollient milk for the skin. It prevents and removes freckles, tan, sunburn, redness and roughness of the skin, sooths and heals stings of insects, eczema, prickly heat, and all irritations, produces soft skin, and a lovely delicate complexion.

One of the officers then called to a sailor saying, "Jack! fix a rope to that yardarm and make it fast around the nest of this bird."

"We will never allow our ships to be disgraced by such proceeding as you propose," answered the European officers indignantly. "You can threaten them as much as you please."
